DR. W. N. GRAHAM IS DEAD

THE FINAL SUMMONS CAME AT EXCELSIOR SPRINGS AT 5:15 A. M. TODAY.

NOT CONSCIOUS SINCE SATURDAY

Funeral Services in the City Where He Died at 9 O'clock Thursday Morning and Burial in the Cemetery There.

A telegram to the Democrat-Sentinel this forenoon from Wesley H. Graham announced the death of his brother, Dr. William N. Graham, at Excelsior Springs at 5:15 o'clock this morning, of diabetes, after having been unconscious since last Saturday evening.

The burial services will be conducted at the Baptist church at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and interment will be in the city cemetery at Excelsior Springs.

Dr. Graham was born in Kentucky 53 years ago September 25, last, and came to Missouri with his parents forty-two years ago, settling on a farm near Green Ridge. He was liberally educated, and taught school for a time, after which he studied medicine in St. Louis and was graduated with high honors.

For a short time Dr. Graham practiced his profession, but he retired permanently a number of years ago, and later was employed, in turn as a newspaper reporter, clerk in the U. S. post office here, clerk in the interior department at Washington, D. C., and as a traveling salesman.

A few months after the Sedalia Evening Democrat was established, December 17, 1891, by Peter E. Stratton and A. C. Baldwin, Dr. Graham purchased the interest of Mr. Baldwin, and was business manager of the paper until it was purchased by Mr. A. D. Stanley and consolidated with the Sedalia Evening Sentinel, January 1, 1907.

No man ever made as great success in the business office of a Sedalia newspaper as did Dr. Graham. Early and late he was at his post of duty, and a better employer no band of journalistic workers ever had.

Retiring from the newspaper field, Dr. Graham removed to Excelsior Springs, where he purchased the Evans Laundry, and conducted it with signal success up to the time of his death.

Dr. Graham united with the Baptist church when a young man, and after his removal to Excelsior Springs he joined the B. P. O. Elks. He was a man of strong convictions, and the night was never too dark or too cold for him to leave his comfortable quarters to do a favor for a friend.

Dr. Graham is survived by two brothers, Wesley H. Graham, for many years a well known Missouri traveling man, and John Graham, who for a long period has been employed as clerk in several of the leading hotels in Chicago, and by two children of his half-sister, Mrs. Black, who died a couple of years ago.

In the death of W. N. Graham a Christian gentleman and a friend who was true blue has gone to his eternal reward, and a legion of friends throughout Missouri will read of his demise with deepest sorrow.

"JIM" REED TO BE HERE!

Mr. Reed is justly considered one of the most eloquent men in the country today and during this campaign has spoken to enthusiastic audiences in every section of the United States. There are many calls for him in all the states and it was very difficult for him to see his way clear to come to Sedalia, but he did so at the request of his many friends here.

His speech will prove a rare treat and no one should miss hearing him.

E. church, at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The couple will make their home at Seventeenth street and Montgomery avenue.

G. L. Slater, of Slater, Mo., and Miss Jessie M. Lewis, of this city, were united in marriage by Circuit Judge Hoffman at the court house into Tuesday afternoon.

NEXT SPRING'S HOUSE CLEANING.

The Man for the Job.

BARTON LOVES ANOTHER

WIFE DENIES CHARGES IN A ST. LOUIS LAWYER'S DIVORCE SUIT.

FILES AN ANSWER AND FIGHTS CASE

Believes He Wants to Wed Chicago Divorcee—Union of 27 Years Severed—Defendant Resides in Sedalia.

Regarding a divorce suit that was written of in the Democrat-Sentinel Tuesday afternoon, the St. Louis Times of the same afternoon had the following:

"Mrs. Linda E. Barton, of Sedalia, Mo., has filed a general denial of the allegations in the divorce petition of her husband, Attorney Joseph E. Barton, 122 North Seventh street, St. Louis. The suit will come up for trial in Judge Williams' court at the December term.

"Barton says they were married in Livingston county, Mo., Dec. 6, 1881, and came to St. Louis six years ago. One year later he purchased a home near Grand avenue, he says, but Mrs. Barton refused to live with him.

"To gratify her wishes, he next bought a residence in the outskirts of the city, but Mrs. Barton said she would never live in St. Louis, he alleges. Barton says they then moved from place to place, but that his wife continued to grumble and manifested no interest in his business or success. For the last five years, he says, she has been cold, indifferent and critical and has thrown obstacles in his way. On Oct. 30, 1907, she went to Sedalia to make her home."

She Denies His Charges.

Mrs. Linda E. Barton denies emphatically the allegations contained in Barton's petition. In reference to the statement that Barton had bought her homes in St. Louis and had tried for five years to satisfy her "luxurious desires," she said to a Democrat-Sentinel reporter:

"Mr. Barton and I lived in St. Louis for five years, and during that time he did the best he could for the family, but it was owing to financial difficulties that I was compelled to come to Sedalia a year ago to live.

"It was only after I came here that I learned some things of his real life. Three years ago Mr. Barton was retained by a divorced woman from Chicago to act as her attorney, and after that our difficulties began. I did not, however, know of her and my husband's infatuation for her until I had come to this city with my family.

"Now I believe that he wishes a divorce from me that he may marry her. His charges are unfounded, and I shall contest his divorce suit to the end. We have been man and wife for twenty-seven years."

Mrs. Barton is living in this city with her five children, three of whom are grown. Since coming here she has made many friends. She has retained attorneys and has filed an answer to her husband's allegations in his divorce petition.

FIGHTING FOR NEW YORK

BRYAN, TAFT AND SHERMAN CONTESTING EVERY INCH IN EMPIRE STATE.

TODAY IS THE BIG G. O. P. DAY

After an All-Day Campaign Republican Candidates Will Address a Monster Mass Meeting in Madison Square Tonight.

New York, Oct. 28.—That New York is regarded by both big parties as vitally important in this canvass is evidenced by the presence of both the presidential and the republican vice presidential candidates in New York city. Mr. Kern still continues to tour Indiana. Hise is in Connecticut, Chafin and Watkins at Atlantic City and Debs is preaching the socialist cause in Illinois.

This is Taft's big day in Greater New York, as Monday was Bryan's. His train reached here a half hour late this morning, and from then until after midnight tonight almost every moment is assigned for meetings in various parts of the city.

There will be a monster mass meeting of republicans in Madison Square garden tonight. Two hours before Taft reached here Bryan left on an up-state tour and will touch a number of towns before addressing a big mass meeting at Troy tonight.

DEEDED OVER PROPERTY

JACOB SCHNECK DID BEFORE ELLA KREEMER WOULD MARRY HIM.

HAD ADVERTISED FOR BETTER HALF

He Got Her, but She Proved a Tartar, and Now He Is Seeking a Divorce in Cooper County Circuit Court.

Jacob Schneck, a well known resident of Pilot Grove, has filed suit in the circuit court here asking for a divorce from his wife, Ella, whom he married last April through the medium of a matrimonial advertisement, says the Boonville Democrat of Tuesday.

Schneck is 33 years old and his wife is 58. Her maiden name was Ella Kreemer and she claimed to hail from Cook county, Ill., although she lived in Oklahoma when they were married.

According to the evidence submitted at the hearing in a special term of court held Monday, she refused to wed Schneck without a marriage contract, in which she sought the deed of a house and lot in Pilot Grove in her name. Schneck finally consented and signed over the property and the wedding took place.

They moved into her property and for a few days everything was serene. Then love spats began. Later these developed into cat fights, and one day Mrs. Schneck informed her husband she was going to Illinois on a visit to relatives. She left with a kiss and a promise to write often until her return.

But she did neither, and he has not heard from her since last May. Therefore he is praying for a divorce and the annulment of the deed to the property he signed over to her.

RAILWAY HAS FAILED

Cleveland Street Railway Has Gone Into Receiver's Hands.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 28.—The Central Trust company of New York, trustees for the bondholders of the Cleveland Railway company, today filed suit in the federal court, praying that a receiver be appointed for the municipal Traction company, now operating the lines of the former corporation in this city.

Judge Taylor, of the federal court, issued a temporary order, tying up all funds held by the Municipal company, except such as may be necessary for the payment of wages.

Reform School Fugitive Caught.

Fred Barnard, who says he is only 17 years old, but who gives every appearance of being over 22, was arrested by Chief of Police Boultt today at the instigation of the authorities of the state reform school at Boonville, who accuse Barnard of having escaped from the roller room of the institution last night. He will be returned to Boonville tonight.

TROUBLE WITH HIS WIFE

GIVEN AS THE CAUSE OF A MISSOURI BANKER LEAVING HOME TOWN.

IS NO CLEW TO HIS WHEREABOUTS

Said He Took a Large Sum of Money With Him, and Yet There Is Fear That He May Have Committed Suicide.

Bonne Terre, Mo., Oct. 28.—A. J. Clay, bank president and prominent merchant of Des Lodge, Mo., has disappeared, and his friends fear that he has killed himself.

He left Des Lodge early Monday morning without notifying his closest friends or his business associates, and no word has been received from him. Domestic trouble is supposed to have caused his sudden departure.

It is said that Clay's differences with his wife has injured his business. The couple have no children. A suit for divorce by Mrs. Clay was expected, according to their acquaintances, but no formal legal action had been taken, although Mrs. Clay had made charges against her husband in conversations with friends.

Clay made no disposition of his property before he left the city, so far as is known. He conducted a large mercantile establishment, and was a justice of the peace as well as president of the Citizen's bank. It is said he took a large sum with him when he disappeared Monday.

He is of middle age and has lived in St. Francois county for many years.

THE WIRE "RAI" MUST GO

It Interferes With "Central's" Work While on Duty.

A ban is to be put on wire rats by the management of the Bell Telephone company, and in future "central" girls will not be able to display their pompadours to the same advantage as in the past.

The artificial hair which has been the means of adding to central's beauty proves an obstruction to the apparatus which "adorns" the operator's head while on duty, and in order not to complicate her work this girls will be compelled to abolish the wire rats and supplement them with artificial "fixtures" of a more convenient design.

The discovery that the wire rats and central's head ornaments will not harmonize was discovered only a few days ago, but now a howl has been inaugurated by the operating department with a view of defeating the adoption of the new edict, although several central girls are making preparations to meet the new demand.

PATRIOT IS RELEASED

Russian Government Accepts Bail Raised by English.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—Nicholas Tchaikovsky, an aged patriot who has been imprisoned here for nearly a year, was released this afternoon. A fund of $25,000 subscribed in England to cover the bail demanded by the Russian government was deposited in the Imperial bank today.

Get Returns at Court House.

The democratic and republican central committees will receive the election returns at the court house next Tuesday night, the two chairmen not deeming it advisable to make a change to one of the opera houses.

LADIES' MUSICAL CLUB

PIANO RECITAL BY ELLA KUHN, ASSISTED BY MRS. W. D. STEELE.

AN ADDRESS BY MR. J. W. MELLOR

Mrs. C. H. Bard Made an Appropriate Response—The Program of the Morning Was Greatly Appreciated by All.

The Ladies' Musical club met at the Elks' club rooms this morning. Mrs. Charles Bard presided. Mr. J. W. Mellor, exalted ruler of the Elks, was the guest of honor and made an appropriate speech, welcoming the Ladies Musical club to the Elks rooms. Mrs. Bard responded to Mr. Mellor and assured the Elks of the ladies' appreciation of the honor.

Miss Ella Kuhn, the pianiste of the morning, played her program through with much brilliancy and finish. She showed that her year in Chicago had been well spent and gives promise of being a pianiste of high rank. Her playing of the Beethoven sonata was her masterpiece.

Mrs. Steele sang her songs with artistic finish and her accompaniments were beautifully played by Mrs. Yancy. The difficult Greek songs showed the singer at her best. Miss Blair explained the Greek poetry, thereby adding to the interest of the songs. The entire program was very interesting. There was a large attendance of members and guests. The year opens most auspiciously and promises to be the best in the club's history. The following was the program of the morning:

THE NEHEMESH CLUB

An Interesting Program for Thursday Night.

The second meeting of the season of the Nehemesh club will be held at the auditorium of the Sedalia High school tomorrow night. John Montsomery will read a paper on "Last Wills and Testaments."

After the program, a Halloween social will be held, the principal feature of which will be a comedy entitled, "Mrs. Willis' Will."

In addition to the comedy, there will be readings and musical numbers. Members of the club are permitted to invite friends to attend, and a special invitation is extended to the members of the Pettis County Bar association to be present.

MET BY CHEERING CROWDS

Mr. Bryan in Up-State New York Towns Greeted by Workmen.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 28.—The upstate tour of Mr. Bryan today, despite the rain, was greeted with immense, cheering crowds, which were conspicuous for the workmen among them.

He discussed the publicity of campaign funds and everywhere assailed the republican party for having no plan for relieving the panic.

Better Roads in Pettis.

An article under the above caption, printed in yesterday's Democrat-Sentinel, written by Judge I. M. Danforth, is reproduced today, owing to the fact that it was so badly and almost inexcusably "muddled" in the makeup yesterday as to be unintelligible.

The communication appears today as it was written, and the Democrat-Sentinel sincerely trusts that the voters of Pettis county will heed the advice of Judge Danforth and vote "yes" on the second amendment at next Tuesday's election.

THE DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

Newspapers which stand for political parties and advocate party platforms very frequently find themselves in a position where some of the candidates of the party do not fully measure up to the higher standards of citizenship in many particulars, and in consequence they are more or less embarrassed in their endeavors to bring about a party victory.

It is, therefore, a matter of much satisfaction when party policies and party candidates are equally meritorious, and when the election of every candidate on the ticket can be supported earnestly and strongly, in the honest belief that they are worthy of the positions they seek and deserve absolutely the votes of their fellow citizens.

This is the situation in which the Democrat-Sentinel finds itself in the campaign. From top to bottom there is not a name on the democratic ticket but that is the name of a high-
minded, upright, conscientious man,
a credit to themselves and the community in which they live.

While this can be said of all, today
special attention is called to the eminent fitness of those on the local ticket, men we all know and admire
and in whom we are all more personally interested, because of the fact that they seek positions that bring them directly in contact with almost every citizen, during the terms of the office to which they aspire.

It is the county officials that make or mar the county, that make it great or drag it down, both financially and otherwise.

It can be said in all truth that the democrats of Pettis county never have and probably will never present a cleaner or higher minded lot
of candidates than those who are asking the suffrage of the people at this time.

Representative E. E. Johnston has in the past demonstrated what he can do in the halls of legislation.

A business man, successful and conservative, he was first drafted by his party as a candidate for this particular place, and so successful has
he been in fulfilling his duties that the people generally, without regard to party, recognized his qualifications
and have kept him there ever since.

His splendid work for the public schools, and especially for the education of the children of the poor, his unflinching and successful labors for the state fair and the hundreds of other accomplishments to his credit,
demonstrate that he is the man for
the place, and should be kept there
as long as he so faithfully and successfully serves the public.

There are no positions of more importance to the whole mass
of the people and which affects them
more vitally than those of county
judges. They are practically the governors of the county, and in their hands are placed those every day affairs which are of the most vital importance. They can make the county prosperous, or if so inclined can bankrupt it. It behooves good citizens,

then, to select careful, level-headed,
honest and painstaking men for these places, and certainly the democrats are offering the very best material in the county as their candidates this year.

It is admitted by every person that the present county court, with a democratic majority, is the best court
that has had charge of county affairs for many years, and if it is continued in office will in the future, as in the past, demonstrate that it exists solely for the good of the entire taxpayers of the county.

Judge A. L. Haggard, who has so ably represented the Western district on the county bench, will be his own successor and will give an other term to the interest of his constituents. It is a conceded fact,
admitted by all of both parties, that Pettis county never had a better
county court than the present one,
and while Judge McAninch holds over
and the re-election of Judge Haggard is an assured fact, and the addition of Judge Myers, of the Eastern district, the financial affairs of the county will be conducted in a manner eminently satisfactory to the people at large and with credit to the court. Judge Haggard is one of our very best business men and has assisted in looking closely to the best interests of the county and deserves
re-election.

William B. Meyers, who was the choice of the democrats for judge of the Eastern district, is one of Pettis county's very best business men. For a number of years he has been a successful business man at Smithton,
and is popular with all. He is a conservative citizen, and while on the bench will look closely to the interests of the people of the county.
His presence on the bench will add popularity to the present court.

In C. C. Lawson, who seeks the position of prosecuting attorney, is presented a candidate who combines in himself all the elements that go to make the ideal American citizen.
Self-made, progressive, energetic,
honest and faithful, he has in him
the attributes that can not but prove a prosecuting attorney of the highest worth and merit. He is well read in the law, a tireless practitioner and possesses a mind that, seeing the merits of a cause, instinctively knows the proper and just course to pursue in its conduct.

Against almost insurmountable obstacles, a stranger without acquaintance or influence, he has built himself up in the community, both professionally and socially, until now no man here stands higher or has more devoted friends than he. He has made a success of his profession and a success in life, scattering seeds of kindness along his every day path
and endearing himself to all who know of the unostentatious acts of charity he is always seeking to do.
Hundreds of little children have had their hearts and bodies warmed by deeds of Lawson's, of which but very few know.

A success in his profession, he would be a success as prosecuting
attorney, and his every act in that high office would be guided by the strictest sense of justice and right.

Of Mr. Henderson's qualifications
for sheriff there can be no question,
as he has demonstrated by nearly four years' service as deputy that he possesses to an eminent degree the courage, honesty and cool-headedness so necessary in one who would be chief law officer of the county.

Rain or or shine, early and late,
in season and out of season, Mel Henderson has been found doing his duty, and his faithfulness to the trust
reposed in him has been so conspicuous as to attract more than usual attention from all who are familiar with the affairs with which he has had to deal.

He has been a democrat all his life and the work he has done for his party could not be more suitably rewarded than by giving him the office he now seeks.

A splendid citizen and a good officer, Mel Henderson would be a credit to Pettis county as sheriff,
and would without question fulfill
every obligation assumed on taking
the oath of office.

County Treasurer Lon V. Ware is seeking re-election at the hands of his fellow citizens. Mr. Ware has made a good treasurer. He is thoroughly honest, an expert accountant,
and during the present term of his administration he has established a record of which he has a right to be proud.

Mr. Ware's aspirations doubtless will receive the favorable consideration they should, and his party members and friends will recognize the efficiency with which the office is now conducted, and see to it that he remains in the place he has filled so well.

He is a gentleman in every sense of the word, and if re-elected will continue to serve Pettis county with fidelity and integrity as county treasurer. The voters can make no mistake in giving him the place he seeks.

HICKS
THE GROCER

Clay R. Gorrell is the candidate for assessor. Mr. Gorrell is a native of Pettis county, having lived in the county all his life, and there is probably no man within the borders of the county who is better or more favorably known. Having spent his early life on the farm and the last dozen or more years in the railroad shops in this city, he has made the acquaintance of all new comers,
and knows personally every man who has lived in the county any considerable length of time. He is a "mixer" and is respected by all his acquaintances.

Mr. Gorrell is a democrat and has taken active interest in politics for years. He is ever to be found in his party's support, and has made an effective, but clean campaign.

His knowledge of real estate valuation, both city and rural, qualifies
him for the position and his upright
character makes him worthy of the confidence of his fellow citizens.

T. O. Stanley, candidate for surveyor, has demonstrated his fitness
for that position by having filled it to the entire satisfaction of the people.

in the past. He is a thorough engineer and has been successfully connected with enterprises requiring
the highest order of engineering
skill, so that all know the duties of the position will be done thoroughly and well should he be chosen for the place. His standing in the community and his upright character make him
well worthy of serving the public,
and his name should be on the ballot
of every man who wishes to select the right man for the place.

H. R. Camp, the present public administrator of this county, is a candidate for re-election. Mr. Camp was elected two years ago to fill the unexpired term of Judge Connor, who resigned to accept the office of justice of the peace.

Mr. Camp has faithfully performed the duties of this office, and asks his friends to endorse him by re-election.
The public administrator's office,
while an important one, is not remunerative, unless held for several years, so as to give an accumulation of business. Mr. Camp has on this account been compelled to follow his avocation as a druggist for the two years since his election in order to meet his expenses and therefore has not been able to make an extensive
campaign and come in personal contact with his friends.

Every citizen of this county can feel assured that the affairs of the public administrator's office will be rightly conducted if Mr. Camp is re-elected, and we feel that his friends, regardless of political affiliation, should honor him with their votes.

Dr. R. T. Miller, the present coroner, deserves re-election. For years
Dr. Miller has been identified with Sedalia and Pettis county, and has a record as a public spirited citizen hard to beat. In his old age he deserves to continue in the place for which he has shown his capacity and that he will be kept there will be evidence of the people's appreciation
of his faithful citizenship and fidelity to every trust.

Thomas Gordon, formerly a general foreman at the Missouri Pacific shops, is seeking the office of constable of Sedalia township, and certainly deserves the place he seeks.

Mr. Gordon has lived in Sedalia four years, during which time he has made many friends and acquaintances.
He is about 45 years old, is a man of family, is thoroughly responsible, and in every way qualified for the office to which he aspires.

PILOT GROVE ITEMS.

Pilot Grove, Mo., Oct. 27.
Robert Roe has bought the residence property until recently occupied by W. C. Chilton, which he is moving.

Mrs. C. B. Sly has been seriously ill for a fortnight.

Our schools will be closed Thursday and Friday, while the teachers
will attend the Teachers' association at Boonville. Principal D. Lee Roe has a place on the program.

Pilot Grove has lost another good citizen. This time it is W. C. Chilton, who, for a number of years, was one
of this town's business men, and commanded the respect of all who knew him. Mr. Chilton and family have gone to La Junta, Col., to reside in the future. We all miss Cad Chilton and his excellent family, and wish them well in their western home.

Mrs. Spencer had a sale of her personal effects last Saturday, preparatory to removing with her daughter, Miss Bessie, and granddaughter,
Miss Myrtle Spencer, to Seattle,
Wash., where her son, Thomas, resides.

Henry Mills has so improved the old Joyce hotel property as to almost destroy its identity. Mr. Mills will reopen the house to the public.

W. A. Hurt, who for several years managed E. A. Windsor's interests at Choteau Springs, has moved to Pilot Grove.

I read with regret of the passing of Hill's Business college, because I am interested in the welfare of any and every institution that educates and uplifts. Nor is this all.
The founder of this school was my friend, and this friendship often led me to his school, which I learned to love. And now that it is no more I am sincerely sorry to know. I shall think of the school for what it has done for many a moneyless man.

Conservatively speaking, I may say that there will be a landslide for Bryan November 3."

Corn Salad.

To make a most delicious salad that may be kept in air-tight jars for winter use, cut corn from two dozen ears; chop fine two heads of cabbage and one dozen mangoes; add four tablespoons of English mustard, two cups of sugar, two tablespoons of salt, 1 1/2 teaspoons of turmeric, and two quarts of vinegar. Boil these ingredients 20 minutes in a granite kettle. Put in air-tight jars. This will make about five quarts of salad.

CHASED OVER ROOFS

Police After Habitués of Headquarters of "Cocaine Trust."

Chicago, Oct. 28.—One woman attempted to hurl herself out of a second-story window, others escaped by running half clad through the streets and two men narrowly missed being killed by policemen's bullets in a raid yesterday at No. 2114 Dearborn court, supposed headquarters of Chicago's "cocaine trust."

The woman who tried to jump out the window is Kate Clare, supposed to be a member of a wealthy family living in another city. Eugene Houston and Sol Van Blum, who were in the house with her, were arrested after a revolver chase over the roofs of adjoining buildings. While Lieut. and several policemen pursued them, Sergeant Byrne struggled with the woman.

He seized the woman after she had climbed to a window sill and poised herself for a leap to the street. She fought to escape and attempted to choke the sergeant before she was subdued.

UNITED STATES A MECCA FOR THE VIVISECTIONISTS.

So Author of a Plea For Regulation of Animal Experiments Asserts.

That the United States, owing to the lack of laws restricting vivisection, is a Mecca for "scientific fanatics" is asserted in a book about to be published in New York, "The Problem of Vivisection—A Plea For Proper Regulation." The author says:

"The abuses of research include every form of excruciating and lingering torment that can be conceived. In the august name of science, animals have been subjected to burning, baking, freezing, saturation with inflammable oil and then setting on fire, starvation to death, skinning alive, larding the feet with nails, crushing and tormenting in every conceivable way."

"But are such glaring abuses possible in America? Why not? The realm of pain has here no boundaries which investigation is required to observe. In no American state or commonwealth is there any law, any statute of any kind whatever, which would prevent these experiments from being repeated here as often as desired."

"Now, is it probable that in a country like ours, with a population drawn from every foreign source, experimental research, thus unrestrained, remains free from the excesses which have stained it everywhere else—in Italy, in France, in Germany?"

"The absence of clear, definite and reasonable limitations beyond which vivisection becomes cruelty and should not go is of itself an invitation to abuse. And scientific fanatics have even been known to come to the United States to perpetrate acts of cruelty which they knew would not be allowed under the humane restrictions of the English law."

REVOLUTION IN FAN THEORIES

Turbine Blower Upsets Old Ideas About How to "Move Air."

Propeller fans everybody knows about. They push the air just as a propeller pushes a ship. Centrifugal fans work on the same principle as a centrifugal pump. As the blades revolve at high speed the air between them is driven outward by centrifugal force. Of one of this type of fans invented by S. C. Davidson of Belfast, Ireland, George H. Winstanley, F. G. S., in a work soon to be published on "The Mechanical Equipment of Collieries," says:

"The most interesting feature about this fan is (if I may use the expression) that it 'knocks on the head' many of the generally accepted fan theories. The distinctive features of the Sirocco fan are these: It has an absolutely clear inlet or practically the same diameter as the fan itself. (All other fans have the inlet much smaller in diameter than that of the revolving portion.) The blades are very short radially, being only about one-sixteenth of the fan diameter. The width of the blades, however, is greater than usual, about three-fifths of the diameter. There are a larger number of blades than are usually found in centrifugal fans, sixty-four being the number adopted in the Sirocco. The blades take more the form of scoops, with a forward curvature."

As an example of what these fans can do a fan of well known make at a Lancashire colliery is producing 233,000 cubic feet per minute. This fan is twenty-four feet in diameter. A Sirocco fan that has recently been installed at a colliery in the north of England is seventy-five inches in diameter and is producing 226,000 cubic feet per minute. The significance of this comparison is too obvious to need further comment.

THE FALL CLEANING

THINGS IT WILL BE HANDY FOR YOU TO KNOW.

Easy Ways of Doing Renovating and Cleaning—Timely Hints for the Good House-keeper.

It is half in knowing how to do a thing. One of the trials of domestic life is the housecleaning, but that strenuous season may be made less a burden by putting brains as well as brawn into the work. For this reason we submit the following varied assortment of hints, that those who can may read and reading may obtain the blessing from the possession of knowledge wisely used.

Carpets should be beaten on the wrong side first and then more gently on the right. Never put a carpet down on a damp floor, for this often results in the carpet becoming mildewed.

Kerosene will remove tar, varnish, and other like substance from the hands and will also cleanse varnish brushes. A bit of flannel dipped in the oil will usually be sufficient to clean the hands.

A little very fine salt rubbed upon stained china will remove spots and lines made by tea and other liquids. Verdigris on metal can be quickly removed by rubbing with a soft rag dipped in liquid ammonia.

Many a piece of old haircloth furniture can be made most attractive if covered with pretty chintz or cretonne. With these coverings one can have hangings to match. Nothing adds more to a room than its draperies.

To dry lace curtains without a stretcher wind quilting frames with muslin. Pin each point of the curtains evenly to the muslin; two or three may be put on at once, one over the other. Dry in the open air or indoors in a warm room.

Never paper a wall that is inclined to be damp without first making it impervious to moisture by applying a varnish of one part shellac to two of naphtha. The disagreeable odor will soon disappear and, after papering, there will be no more trouble from moisture stains.

When washing lace never rinse it in blue water, with the idea of improving its color. Real lace should be finally rinsed in skim milk, which will give it a soft, creamy color.

If the covers of the kitchen range get red and will not blacken, try rubbing on lemon juice first, then blacken the usual way.

When ants gather on your pantry shelves, make a pie-crust dough, using lard for shortening; bake in the oven, and when done lay in pieces on the shelves, and in a few days there will not be an ant around.

In darning curtains if the rent is large take a piece of an old curtain and patch the hole with it and the damage will scarcely be noticed.

Clean enameled bath tubs and marble wash bowls with kerosene, then rinse thoroughly with strong soapsuds to remove the odor of the kerosene.

Organdies, chambrays and fine cambrics may be washed without danger of fading if they be washed first in clear water in which a cupful of very coarse salt has been dissolved.

Soap and powdered chalk mixed and rubbed on mildew spots, will remove them. To expedite matters let the spotted article lie in the sun for a few hours, damping it again as it dries.

Rice Dishes for Hot Weather.

With one-third of the human race depending upon rice as their staple food supply and doing excellently well on that healthful grain, it behooves the American housewife who wishes to keep her family in good condition during the hot weather to follow the example of the people living in hot countries. Rice, unlike most other grains, can be served hot or cold, as a vegetable or a dessert. When it is to appear as a vegetable or curry, it should be cooked in plenty of rapidly boiling water, so that each grain stands out distinct from the rest. It should be stirred with a fork, not a spoon, while cooking. When done turn into a colander to drain, saving all the water for use in soup stock, then shake well. Return to the back of the stove or the oven to steam, but do not cover. When used for puddings or desserts where it is not necessary to preserve the form of the grain, it can be slowly cooked in the double boiler or baked in the oven.

GOV. FRANCIS BACK EAST

GIVEN A GRAND OVATION IN WHEELING, WEST VIRGINIA, LAST NIGHT.

SAYS BRYAN HAS HIS FIGHT WON

Has Very Strong Fighting Chance of Carrying New York, While Indiana, Ohio and Nebraska Are Certainly Safe.

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 28.—Former Governor David R. Francis, of Missouri, got an ovation from Wheeling democrats last night, when he addressed a great gathering at Arion Hall. Hundreds were unable to gain admittance.

Preceding the meeting there was an imposing street demonstration, participated in by many marching clubs from towns in Ohio and West Virginia.

Mr. Francis declared the success of Bryan does not mean business depression, but on the other hand, means more prosperity.

Francis Says Bryan Has Won. Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 28.—"Bryan has his fight won; I think he even has a very strong fighting chance of carrying New York, while Indiana, Ohio, Nebraska and Missouri will give him a majority in the electoral college," said former Governor David R. Francis, of Missouri, while in Pittsburgh a few hours yesterday, en route from New York to Wheeling, W. Va.

"I spent last week in New York and New Jersey, and the claims that Mr. Bryan may carry both states are not without foundation. Chandler will undoubtedly be elected governor of New York, and the democratic leaders say they will carry New Jersey."

TEN YEARS OF ECZEMA

Reports on eczema dating back 10 years show the value of external treatment. The W. E. Bard Drug Co. of this city, can tell any sufferer what reports they have been getting from patients who used oil of wintergreen, thymol and glycerine in liquid form, as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription. It would be interesting to know whether any person cured as much as 10 years ago has had another touch of the disease.

BLACK CATS BY THOUSANDS

Man Wants for Halloween—Pumpkin Shortage Threatened.

Youngstown, Ohio, Oct. 28.—Three thousand black cats and the greatest assembly of pumpkins that ever has been known in the history of the country, and which presages a total lack of pumpkin pie for the rest of the year, is what is meant by the celebration which is planned for Halloween.

An advertisement was printed in the local papers yesterday by J. C. Birmingham, who has charge of the official decorations, for the cats. He wants all black ones, without a speck of white on them. They are to be used in the decoration of the city for the purpose, unless the Humane society interferes.

STARTS CAMPAIGN AGAINST KEY WEST CIGAR FRAUDS.

Sale of Bogus Brands Enjoined as First Step in General Movement Now on Foot.

One injunction has followed another in the United States courts, restraining the use of the name "Key West" in connection with cigars not made in that city. This is the beginning of a general campaign against the practice of misbranding cigars. The injunctions are obtained by the Key West Cigar Manufacturers' association.

An injunction recently issued in Philadelphia restrains the defendant "from in any way, manner or form, directly or indirectly, whether by means of labels, bands, marking on boxes, word of mouth or otherwise, making use of the words 'Key West,' and any and all colorable imitations thereof, in connection with the sale or offering for sale of cigars which are not in truth and in fact made in Key West, Fla."

Mr. S. R. Perry of the law firm of Steuart & Steuart, New York, counsel for the Key West manufacturers, says:

"The defendants in this case are only one of many dealers who make a practice of misbranding cigars and of substituting weeds of all kinds for the Key West made product. Owing to climatic, atmospheric and other favoring conditions, Key West, Fla., has exceptional advantages for the manufacture of cigars, and the output of the genuine Key West product is now about 100,000,000 cigars a year. Many times that number of cigars are, however, sold as 'Key West,' and it is this fraud that we intend to stop. Smokers can partly protect themselves by observing on the bottom of the box the name of the state in which their cigars are made. If not made in a Florida factory, a cigar evidently cannot be a 'Key West.'"

Cheese Dreams.

Cut thin slices of bread and butter both sides. Spread on lightly a little French mustard on one side of each slice, then put two slices of bread together with a layer of cheese between, coming next to the mustard. Put in oven and let remain until the cheese has thoroughly melted and the bread is crisp. This will be found a very dainty and appetizing luncheon dish to serve with an entree. If desired cut the bread in heart-shaped pieces, thereby making it a little more attractive.

BROKE INTO JAIL 61 TIMES

This is the Record of John Shea the Past Six Years.

Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 28.—White lime was the cause of the downfall of John Shea, once a respected farmer of this vicinity, who holds a record of having broken into jail sixty-one times in the last six years.

It is alleged that Shea drinks pints of a decoction of white lime, which results in a species of intoxication unknown to imbibers of milder varieties of liquor.

For the sixty-one times that he has been arrested for indulging his fad, Shea has been sentenced to a total of 530 days in the county jail.

TRY THIS FOR YOUR COUGH

Mix a half-ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure with two ounces of Glycerine and a half-pint of good Whiskey; shake well, and take a teaspoonful every four hours.

It is claimed this mixture will break up a cold in twenty-four hours, and cure any cough that is curable. Being free from opiates and drugs, it is far preferable to the ordinary cough remedies, and, as it provides a quantity sufficient to last the average family an entire year, is as inexpensive as it is effective.

The necessary ingredients can be secured from any good prescription druggist, and the mixture easily prepared. It is well to remember, when having this formula put up, that the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure is never sold in bulk, but is put for dispensing only in half-ounce vials, each vial securely sealed in a round wooden case. Rank imitations, resembling the genuine only in name and style of package, are sometimes offered, but these are essentially ineffective and often cause nausea. It is better to purchase the ingredients separately and prepare the mixture at home. Be sure to get the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure, guaranteed under the Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906, Serial No. 451, prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati, O.

NEST BUILT IN CLOCK

By Hornets, and Did Not Know Why Timepiece Stopped.

Urbana, O., Oct. 28.—A farmer brought a clock to a jewelry store in this city to have it repaired. As he placed the same on the counter the man said:

"There seems to be something wrong with this clock; it just won't keep time any more, and I wish you would straighten it out."

After one of the clerks removed a part of the works he found a hornet's nest at the top part of the works. The nest was as large as a goose egg and the clay was as hard as a rock. There was a small opening through which a hornet was protruding when the jeweler was working on the clock.

Work in Intense Heat.

"Persons who complain of the heat when the thermometer reaches the nineties," said a steamship engineer, "seldom think of the discomforts of men employed in gas works, in blast furnaces and in steamships, where the firemen have to endure an atmosphere ranging from 118 to 140 degrees. In all these and many other places where big boilers are located the men wear very little clothing, and while they undoubtedly suffer from the exposure, they do not feel the heat as much as might be supposed. The explanation of this fact is that these men are not reached by the humidity. They are working in places where the artificial heat is so intense as to drive out the humidity, and 118 or more degrees of heat in a pure, dry air is not felt as much as a mixture of 90 degrees of heat and 80 per cent of humidity, that tells on people and sorely tries their vitality."

WOMEN SCHOOLTEACHERS MAKE WAR ON HUGHES.

Working in New York to Defeat the Governor Because He Vetoes the Equal Pay Bill.

Women schoolteachers of New York city have leagued themselves with the race track gamblers, the machine politicians and the liquor men to defeat Governor Hughes. Formal announcement to this effect has been made by the president of the Interborough Association of Women Teachers, which is now carrying on an active campaign against Governor Hughes in Greater New York and throughout the state, as well as against all members of the legislature who voted against the so-called teachers' equal pay bill.

The women teachers admit that they are trying to defeat Hughes because he vetoed the equal pay bill. They are also working actively in behalf of the Democratic candidates Whalen and Palmer, who favored the bill that would have cost Greater New York $10,000,000 in additional salaries.

This peculiar political partnership of the women teachers with the more sinister elements opposed to Governor Hughes has caused a good deal of questioning as to the disinterested quality of "the elevating influence of the woman teacher," about which so much was heard in the equal pay campaign. All who are concerned as to Governor Hughes' re-election condemn in unmeasured terms the effort of the women teachers to defeat him on the sole ground that he disapproved a bill in which they were peculiarly interested.

Dietists Say That It Is Currant Bread. New Ways of Making This Staple.

Some of the most distinguished diet specialists in the world assert that currant bread is the most nourishing article of diet that can be as regularly eaten as white bread. White bread made with a liberal quantity of dried currants is already very popular. Here are two new recipes for making currant bread with whole wheat flour and with potatoes:

Scald (do not boil) one and a half cups sweet milk and one cup water. When tepid add one-half cake compressed yeast after soaking ten minutes in cool water, two tablespoonsfuls of sugar and a teaspoonful of salt. Stir in enough whole wheat flour to make a stiff batter. Allow to rise—three hours is long enough if kept warm—overnight if cool. When light add one egg, one tablespoonful of melted butter, one cup of cleaned and dried currants. Beat well, then add whole wheat flour to make a soft dough. Work well, mold into two loaves, place in greased pans, brush over with melted butter, let rise until light and then bake in hot oven.

Boil one medium sized potato in a quart of water until soft. Scald one small cup of flour with the hot potato water and add mashed potato beaten thoroughly to prevent lumps. When cooled add one cake compressed yeast soaked in a little cold water. Let stand six hours to rise, then add one pint warm water, one pound thoroughly washed currants, one tablespoonful of lard, salt, two beaten eggs, one cup brown sugar, cinnamon if desired, and two to make a stiff dough. Knead ten minutes, put into covered pan in a warm place to stand overnight. Bake in the usual way.

CAT'S HOUR FOR REVENGE.

Where the Yellow Dog Made the Mistake of His Life.

According to the traditions of a country known as the United States of America freedom is sweet, and according to various alleged nature fakers freedom is as sweet to a cat as to a man, writes a Washington correspondent.

Minnie agrees with the nature fakers, and as Minnie is a cat, she should know. She has had an abundance of time in which to taste the bitters of servitude, and could she talk, she would say that the sweets of freedom make a delightful contrast.

For nine long, cruel years Minnie has been in bondage, but her emancipation proclamation was signed when the law went into effect to muzzle all dogs in the streets of Washington.

Minnie's masters—for she had not one, but many—were cruel, overbearing, and inhuman to an extent that would have made one Simon Legree, whose deeds have thrilled melodramatic audiences for half a century, blush with shame for his lack of knowledge of the proper and most soul-rending methods of torture.

During the aforementioned nine years every dog, or rather every cur and mongrel, whose habitat is known as the fish wharf, had used every method known among lower class canines to make Minnie miserable, and when it is known these same curs and mongrels live by their dog wits, therefore possessing more than ordinary intelligence, some idea may be gained of the extreme way in which Minnie suffered.

Then came the law whereby every good-for-nothing or cat-killing dog was muzzled. And with the adoption of muzzles as a canine fashion their teeth were rendered practically useless, at least in the pursuit of their hereditary prey, the feline tribe.

Minnie learned this about five seconds after she spied the first dog she had seen wearing a muzzle. He was a large yellow dog and vicious, having in his veins bull-dog blood.

Seeing Minnie, Spike, the yellow cur, in accordance with a custom of years' standing, made a rush for the cat. According to custom Minnie should have made a hole in the atmosphere by bolting, leaving a little trail of fire behind her where her rapid exit burned the air; but Minnie, being possessed of a certain amount of curiosity, waited, and ran the risk of being mauled in the desire to learn about the funny-looking straps about the dog's mouth.

Minnie waited. The dog came on, and as he ran toward the cat he back rose, her tail assumed a perpendicular position, and grew large, and the hair on her back and neck stood upright. She was a picture of fury incarnate. On came Spike, and as he rushed Minnie grew more angry.

When the dog was ten feet away

Minnie leaped straight upward, her paws extended and ready for action.

As the dog passed beneath Minnie came down, 20 claws digging into the hide of the yellow dog. Spike's momentum carried him some distance, and before he could stop Minnie had used her opportunity to the best advantage. Spike, barking, howling and growling at one and the same time, increased his speed, but Minnie held on until far away from the field of battle, and then she jumped lightly to the ground and was up a tree before Spike missed her weight on his back.

BRYAN SURE OF PRECINCT

He Will Carry It for the First Time in Three Campaigns.

New York, Oct. 28.—William J. Bryan expects to carry his own election precinct next Tuesday for the first time in three campaigns for the presidency.

"You know the republicans are saying that I never carried my own precinct," said Mr. Bryan to members of the Democratic club, "but the republicans have not told that when I moved into the precinct there were ten republicans to two democrats, and that new there are only two republicans to one democrat. This year I am going to carry my own precinct, and I am going to carry the state of Nebraska."

MINISTER IS MURDERED

SUCCESSOR OF SECT'S HEAD IS ARRESTED AS SUSPECTED SLAYER.

Body in River Believed to Have Been Buried, Then Resurrected—Exponent of the
"Sanctified."

Suffolk, Va., Oct. 28.—It became known yesterday that Rev. John L. Smith, who had been missing from his charge at Reids Ferry, Va., was the victim of foul play, and, following an autopsy, a warrant was issued for his successor, Rev. Ernest Lyons, who is accused of the murder. The preacher was an exponent of a "sanctified" or "free love" sect, and rumor had connected his name with a woman member of his congregation.

Lyons was interested in the reputation of the woman involved, and, following an underhanded argument between the two, Smith suddenly disappeared. Lyons having been the last seen in his company. That was in August.

As weeks passed and no word of the missing man was received, members of his flock became alarmed. A detective was employed. Neither diligent search in the community nor a painstaking inquiry at Smith's former home in North Carolina brought forth a clue. Followers of the clergyman furnished financial aid and a reward was offered.

Last week a body was found floating in Nansemond river. It was practically decomposed and was buried as an unknown. Friends of the absent preacher learned of the incident and caused the body to be disinterred. It was identified by three persons as that of Smith.

A subsequent autopsy proved that Smith did not die from drowning, but by a blow on his temple.

Lyons, since Smith's disappearance, had been ministering to the spiritual welfare of his flock. Lyons wept profusely when arrested, protesting his innocence.

Smith's body, detectives say, was first buried, and then put in the river.

BRYAN POPULAR IN CAPITAL

Straw Vote in Theaters Gives 144 Majority Over Taft.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Notwithstanding that Washington is the home of thousands of government employees, who hold their positions under a republican administration, and the further fact that this is the official home of the president and of Mr. Taft, there are evidences here daily that Bryan is the more popular of the two presidential candidates.

An impartial canvass of the leading theaters of the capital city Monday night gave Bryan 1,356 votes and Taft 1,212, a majority for the democratic candidate of 144. The significance of the vote is demonstrated by the fact that four years ago this week the same playhouses gave Roosevelt 1,433 and Parker 772 votes.

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

PASSES BE GIVEN EMPLOYES RE-ENTERING THE RAIL ROAD SERVICE.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

Passes may be issued to bona fide ex-employees of a railroad who are traveling to re-enter the railroad service. Passes cannot be given to be families of employees, who died from natural causes while in the service of common carriers, although this privilege is accorded to the families of employees killed in the service.

The foregoing are among the rulings announced by the interstate commerce commission Tuesday. The commission holds that a railroad may provide in its tariffs that whenever, because of washouts or other accidents, passengers are delayed beyond their ticket limit the conductor or other agent may by endorsement on the ticket extend the time to cover such detention.

This is to be honored by succeeding conductors on the company's lines, but no carrier can provide such extension over other lines than its own, except when provided in a proper joint tariff.

Many Offers of Steeds for Taft.

Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, chief of the bureau of insular affairs, is daily in receipt of letters from horse owners all over the country offering desirable mounts for Judge William H. Taft, the republican candidate for the presidency. These letters have resulted from a story to the effect that Gen. Edwards has been commissioned to purchase a steed for the candidate, the result of which is that he has ever since been occupied in explaining that he is not in the market for a horse.

The other day he received an advertisement of an enormously large and strong steed, 21 hands high and weighing 3,700 pounds, used for exhibition purposes, but which was declared to be admirably adapted for riding by a man weighing 300 pounds. In spite of details there is a constant increase in the number of animals offered. The story that he wants to buy an enormously large horse for the use of the candidate seems to be traveling far beyond the power of any denial to overtake it.

Premium on Goldoid Dollars.

On the coin question, it is of interest—and most people have forgotten the fact—that way back in 1879 the United States government experimented with a gold-silver coin. Five hundred of them were struck off—goldoid dollars they were called—and went into circulation. There's a premium on them now of about four dollars.

The goldoid dollar wouldn't do, however, as the alloy of gold, silver and copper, of which it was composed, tarnished easily and had a brassy sheen even when new. It was a pretty coin, about the size of a half-dollar piece, but with the full dollar's worth of value in it. If it had gone through the size of the half dollar would have been correspondingly reduced, and cart-wheel money would have been relegated to the junk department of the public exchequer.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN RALLY

A Great Parade Will Precede Speech Making—Governor Hughes Will Also Speak in Interest of Candidacy.

New York, Oct. 28.—What is expected to be the biggest republican rally of the campaign in New York city will be held this evening, when it is probable that 15,000 people will fill Madison square garden to hear William H. Taft and Governor Chas. E. Hughes. A great parade will precede the speech-making, and the demonstration is likely to be a notable one, even for the metropolis.

At the garden meeting Gen. Horace Porter will preside, and Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, and George A. Knight, of California, will also speak. Both Mr. Taft and Mr. Hughes will make several speeches during the evening in various parts of the city before addressing the Madison square garden meeting.

A large chorus will sing campaign songs and will be supported by two brass bands. The decorations will be unusually elaborate, while the display of fireworks in the square will be elaborate. On the platform will be a group of men, all of whom voted for John C. Fremont, the first republican candidate for president. Among them will be Frederick W. Seward, the son of William H. Seward, and William Barnes. The Fremont campaign banner will be placed in a prominent place on the platform. Another interesting delegation will be composed of generals and other officers who served during the civil war.

James S. Sherman will review a large parade of republican clubs on their way to the garden. The American club, of Pittsburg; the Conkling club, of Utica, N. Y., and the Unconditional and the Capital City clubs, of Albany, will be among the visiting delegations to the rally that will swell the ranks of the paraders. Several universities will have republican clubs which will take part in the procession. Among them are Yale, Princeton, Harvard, Brown, Columbia, Cornell, New York university, Stevens Institute and the College of the City of New York.

Major Bridgman, of Squadron A, will be the grand marshal and will form the parade and lead it to Madison square garden. There will be a brass band with each corps and transparencies, banners, torches and lanterns galore.

Tomorrow Judge Taft will deliver speeches at important towns in the following counties: Cayuga, Wayne, Monroe, Ontario and Seneca. In the evening he will address a large meeting in Syracuse.

Mr. Taft will speak at Canastota, Oneida, Rome, Utica, Batavia and Buffalo on Friday. The last day of his tour will be Saturday, when he will talk to rallies at Elmira, Waverly, Oswego, Binghamton, Marathon, Cortland and Ithaca. In the evening he will finish his campaigning in the east with a speech at Rochester.

A COMMUNICATION FROM JUDGE I. M. DANFORTH ON THE SUBJECT.

VOTE FOR THE SECOND AMENDMENT

Sedalia is the State Fair City and a Large Majority Should Be Rolled Up in Favor of the Measure.

To the Democrat-Sentinel.

Sedalia, R. R. No. 1, Pettis County, Mo., Oct. 27.—We believe that road improvement is of such importance to the people of Pettis county and to the state as well that the first step toward such improvement is to secure an increased road fund.

No one would expect success in school work with a 15-cent levy, neither will there be good roads in the state with so small a levy.

The forty-fourth general assembly, at the request of the state board of agriculture, passed an amendment, allowing county courts to levy 25 cents for road purposes.

This amendment is the second one of the ballot to be voted Nov. 3, and should not be overlooked by the voter.

It is to the interest of every farmer and citizen to vote "yes" on this second amendment. It means more and better work on Pettis county roads.

If it carries, the money obtained from the levy will go direct to each road district in the county and the twelve-mile district, to be used for grading, culverts and general road improvements.

We can afford to put more money in roads in Pettis county since the state board of agriculture favored us in locating the state fair here, and the county should set the example to the state by voting for the amendment by a large majority.

A neglect on election day to vote favorably on this matter will mean embarrassment to county courts in securing means to do any road work, and there will be no money for the road districts.

Every voter who can remain at the polls should see that his neighbor understands about this second amendment, and urge him to vote "yes" and help to secure better highways in Pettis county. Very truly,
I. M. Danforth.

ANOTHER PASTOR QUILTS

Following Charges Involving a Young Woman

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 28.—The Calvary Baptist church congregation, which, for the past three months has been in the midst of a swirl of scandal, is without a pastor.

Rev. Walter P. Hines, against whom charges of too intimate association with a young unmarried woman of his church were made, and which are under investigation by a committee of citizens, appointed more than a month ago by the church board, tendered his resignation to take effect after the services last night, and it was accepted, but not until there had been much discussion and voting.

After Dr. Hines had formally presented his resignation, Deacon S. F.

Yeager arose in protest against its acceptance.

A vote was taken and the result was 88 for declining and 72 for accepting the resignation.

Dr. Hines has accepted an appointment on the evangelistic staff of the Southern Baptist association, and will go to Birmingham, Ala.

CANNOT BEAT THE BANK

IN THIS CASE REFERENCE IS MADE TO MONTE CARLO'S GAMBLING JOINT.

MANY HAVE TRIED IT AND FAILED

inventor Denies Claims of Those Who Think They Have a System—Final Result Always the Same.

Paris, Oct. 28.—The French lightning calculator, Jacques Inaudi, has issued through The Paris Matin a challenge to Maxim to test the system of which Inaudi is the inventor, but Maxim says he has had enough of it, and recommends that Inaudi go to Monte Carlo, where he can test the system with real money. Monte Carlo doubtless would be willing to oblige. It did not need many more than 5,000 coupons instead of 5,000, as arranged for, to demonstrate the weakness of Rosslyn's system for breaking the bank of Monte Carlo.

Rosslyn contends that he was exceptionally unlucky, and that the predominance of the black to the extent of 4 per cent, rising to 9 per cent, and finally reaching 18 per cent, defeated the "laws of average."

When Rosslyn began to play Tuesday he had $8,266 francs out of dummy capital against 2,500,000 francs, but before the afternoon ended he had only 26,366 francs left, and then he gave up the contest.

Maxim considers that he has demonstrated in the most conclusive manner that the bank cannot be beaten.

FAMOUS TENOR IS COMING

Sailed Today on the Kaiser Wilhelm for New York.

New York, Oct. 28.—Advices from abroad state that Alessandro Bonci, the famous tenor, will sail today from Cherbourg on the Kaiser Wilhelm II for this city. He will first go to Denver, where, on November 10, he will make the first appearance of his concert tour. He will sing in several large cities on his way back to New York, where his engagement at the Metropolitan opera house begins November 16. As the opening opera of the New York season is announced as "Aida," he will not be heard on the opening night.

Bonci recently returned to his villa near Bologna from an exciting hunting trip in the Tuscan Apennines. He has spent a great portion of his time this summer in acquiring a sufficient knowledge of English and German to permit of his use of songs in those languages while on his concert tour and for his role in "Villu," by Puccini, which will be given at the Metropolitan opera house this season for the first time in this country.

LUMPS IN STOCKINGS

Of Fair Hotel Keeper Proved to Be Currency and She Is in Jail.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 28.—Charged with a long string of offenses and regarded by the police as the shrewdest female "Raffles" they have yet dealt with, Mrs. J. W. Millage, who came here from Chicago several months ago, locating herself and husband in charge of the Chicago hotel, is held without bond.

When arrested she had a fortune concealed about her person, with $1,750 in currency of small denomination snugly occupying places in her stockings.

Guests were robbed at the hotel in a mysterious manner, according to indictments already returned, and of amounts from $50 up.

Mrs. Millage was accompanied to jail by her husband, who is also held on charges of larceny, committed by fraud, scheme and device.

SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

THE SMITH COLLEGE IN MASSACHUSETTS ESTABLISHED FOR FEMALES.

NO BOOZE FIGHTING WITH THESE

The Work is to Be Devoted to Giving the Students Practical Training in Requirements of Newspaper Writing.

Northampton, Mass., Oct. 28.—If the present crop of cob pipe-smoking, cussing, booze-fighting, blue pencil sharps wake up some grim, gray morning to find themselves minus their jobs, and their editorial chairs in the newspapers of the country filled by beautiful young girls in diaphanous gowns and merry widow hats, the aforesaid masculine journalists may blame Smith college. For Smith has established a school of journalism, the first of its kind in the world to be opened by a college exclusively devoted to the education of the fair sex.

The work is not intended to deal with any of the theories of journalism, but is devoted to giving the students a little practical training in the requirements of newspaper writing. The students themselves refer to it as the "newspaper course," and most of those taking it are either doing this kind of work "on the side" while at college, or expect to go into it after graduation.

The course opened this fall with a study of the types of newspapers and newspaper styles. Beginning with the most conservative, the students have been directed to write articles for them.

The course is extremely popular among the so-called literary lights of the senior class.

ARE WHISKEY AND TOBACCO REALLY FOES TO LONG LIFE FOR MANKIND?

MICHAEL POWERS DON'T THINK SO

He Recently Celebrated the Centennial of His Birth—Chewed Since Boyhood and Also Drank.

Danville, Pa., Oct. 28.—Is it true that married men live longer than bachelors? Is tobacco a foe to longevity, and indulgence in whiskey certain to send the imbibor to an untimely grave? Perhaps—but you could not convince Michael Powers of the truth of any of these propositions.

Michael recently celebrated the centennial of his birth, and is still as hale and hearty as many youths of sixty or seventy. He has never married, has chewed tobacco ever since he was a boy, and has always drank sparingly of whiskey.

While Mr. Powers does not recommend bachelorhood, booze and 'baccy as certain to add to the years of the devotee, he believes that none are incompatible with a long and joyous existence, as illustrated in his own case.

A L FACTORIES AND BANKS

To Close Four Months After Bryan's Inauguration.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—A wager of $200 against $150 that 80 per cent of the banks and factories in the United States would be shut down four months after the inauguration of William Jennings Bryan, provided he is elected president, was made by Manager Will Shafer, of the Auditorium hotel, with Henry T. Williams, of St. Louis.

"Did it ever strike you," queried Mr. Shafer, "that four months after the president is inaugurated is the fourth of July, a national holiday, which, of course, closes"—but he got no further. Mr. Williams led the way to the buffet.

A Jeweler's Experience.

C. R. Kluge, the jeweler, 1063 Virginia avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed. Dentists Will Rejoice.

Comment is being made in the public press on the fact that in recent photographs of public persons most of them are represented with their mouths open and quantities of teeth showing. As it happens in most of the cases referred to the effect is very good, but it will not do for the public generally to have itself so photographed.

Whatever You Eat Will Be Digested, Leaving Nothing to Ferment Causing Distress—A Dieted Stomach Gets the Blues and Grumbles.

Nothing will remain undigested or sour on your stomach if you will take Diapiesin after your meal. This powerful digestive and antacid, though as harmless and pleasant as candy, will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you can eat.

Eat what your stomach craves, without the slightest fear of indigestion or that you will be bothered with sour risings, belching gas on stomach, heartburn, headaches from stomach, nausea, bad breath, water brash or a feeling like you had swallowed a lump of lead, or other disagreeable miseries.

If you will get from your pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin you could always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and your meals would taste good, because you would know there would be no indigestion or sleepless nights or headache or stomach misery all the next day, and besides, you would not need laxatives or liver pills to keep your stomach and bowels clean and fresh.

Pape's Diapiesin can be obtained from your druggist, and contains more than enough triangles to thoroughly cure the "worst dyspeptic." There is nothing better for Gas on the Stomach or sour odors from the stomach or to cure a Stomach Headache.

A TABLOID NOVEL

A Lovers' Quarrel and the Reconciliation.

"I am broke," he sighed. His beautiful companion averted her face that he might not see the pain he had caused her.

"You mean broken," she corrected softly. He groaned audibly.

"I don't," he contradicted. "I mean busted."

She buried her face in her hands and her frame shook with sobs.

"Burst," she faltered.

Again the brave youth groaned, as only a strong man can when in mortal agony.

"I fear we shall never learn to understand one another," he said at last. "Then it is all over between us?" she asked, trying not to let her voice tremble.

He dashed one stern glance at her from his bloodshot eyes, and, taking his hat, went out into the darkness and the storm.

The maiden buried her face in the sofa cushions and soaked them with her tears. Fortunately, they were fast colors.

Tempest fustled.

At least, that was what happened to the youth.

To the maiden time dragged its weary flight from sun to sun and languid nights trailed slowly on the track of weary days.

She sorrowed in secret and he pitied himself as publicly as his friends would tolerate. She confessed to herself that she loved him in spite of everything. He bemoaned to all his acquaintances the fact that he was still stuck on the girl and couldn't help it.

Meanwhile, his uncle died unexpectedly. Thus do human sorrows multiply. He wept sorrowful tears of disappointment and chagrin when he heard the will read. But the next day he bought an automobile.

"I might as well make the pittance go as far as it will," he argued in justification.

An automobile certainly can make a pittance go fast, if not far. But the boy had gone out of his life.

Hers, too. There are some heartaches that even an automobile will not cure. There are others which the sight of an automobile only aggravates. Such were the kind she suffered.

It may have been accident, it may have been design, but just so sure as she would get into her best afternoon dress and sit down on the veranda with her sewing that new automobile would go honking by.

It was maddening.

One evening after the dishes were washed and put away and they were all seated beneath the woodbine that sheltered their near-palace, her grand-sire, an old man, was telling of Rockefeller and Morgan and how in ancient times a little roll of greenbacks, on the right side of the corner, might pile up a great fortune. She did not then know what Wall street was, but her cheeks burned, she knew not why, and she gazed into the faded eyeballs of that venerable man even as Spartacus faced the fierce Numidian lion.

"Grandfather," she whispered, in a low determined voice, "what does it mean to be broke?"

The old man patted her silken tresses lovingly.

"May you never know, my child," he answered, kindly.

Crimson blushes suffused her delicate complexion and she drew herself up until her stately figure was stretched to its full attitude.

"And is it equally improper that I should know the meaning of 'busted' and 'raising the dough'?" she demanded, catching her breath a little.

"Not improper, but very painful!" answered her grandfather, soothingly. "Honk! Honk! went the automobile, and with a scream of anguish and despair she turned and fled into the house."

They sent for her to visit him in the hospital, where he lay at death's door. His broken jaw, tightly bandaged, prevented him from talking. His eyes were too blackened and swollen to speak of love to eyes that spoke again, and his right arm was in a plaster cast.

She knelt beside his humble cot and clasped her hands, while her eyes searched beseechingly for the sad relics of his once noble countenance.

"Darling," she whispered, "are you hurt?"

The day before he would have turned upon her with withering sarcasm and asked her if he looked it. But pain and suffering had softened his proud spirit. He merely wiggled the little finger of his left hand. It was the only movement he could make without agony. She understood and the glad tears welled from her limpid eyes.

"Darling, you must not die!" she exclaimed.

At another time he might have disputed her, but his stubbornness was gone. He had become as meek as though he were already married. He recognized something in her voice which told him he would have to mind. And he did not die.

Among the decorations at their simple family wedding was a shattered automobile, buried in bride roses.

"I shall keep it always," he said, "to remind me of my duty, though it will never be of any other use. It is hopelessly broken."

She noted the word "broken" and smiled joyously.

They understood one another at last.

English Women as Physicians.
The Englishwoman is making great
headway in the medical profession.
The College of Physicians already admits her to all its examinations. The Royal College of Surgeons has just taken up the question. At a recent poll of the fellows and members a majority of the fellows were in favor of admitting women, but the majority of the members were opposed. The London Hospital, commenting on the result of this poll, declares that the opposition of the members depends on their ignorance of the excellence of woman practitioners and on fear of their competition. These two objections cut each other's throats. Skilled man surgeons are not troubled by the competition of unskilled woman surgeons. On the other hand, there is no tenable ground for barring the skilled woman from any of the honors or privileges of the profession. Antiqua prejudice cannot long hold out against the assault of the expert, no matter
how unwise she may have been in her choice of sex. It is better to give cordially what she demands than to wait till she takes what she deserves
and makes the withholder ridiculous.

Reared by Jerks.

"I think I've heard you say," remarked the man who had ordered a ham-and-egg sandwich at the lunch-
counter, "that you were brought up in a flat."

"If ever I said that," responded the pale-haired youth who was crumbling
crackers into his tomato soup, "I understated the fact. I was brought up in 14 different flats."

And in the deep, sympathetic silence
that followed, nothing was heard but the customary noises of a cheap eating house.—Youth's Companion.

And Still He Lingered.

The lusty cuckoo came outside of the old clock and cuckooed 12 times.
"Do you know," remarked the young man who had been sitting on the carroll sofa since twilight, "that I have a great future? Why, the papers say
I am a 'man of the hour.'"
The beautiful girl yawned.
"Indeed!" she said, wearily. "What hour, the breakfast hour?"

Seats of a King.

One is accustomed to think of a king or queen's throne. But most rulers have several thrones. King Edward of England has six. The most costly, that at Windsor castle, is composed entirely of carved ivory inlaid with precious stones. Most ancient of the thrones is that at Westminster, where the rulers of Great Britain are always crowned. It is of massive oak, and has beneath the seat a sandstone
block known as the stone of destiny
from Scene, which was the emblem of power of the Scottish kings.

Another throne, of Burmese teak,
carved, gilded and studded with crystals, stands beneath a great gilt can-opy in the house of lords. The throne in St. James' palace is very large and imposing, having a canopy overlaid with crimson velvet, which is embroidered with crowns set with fine pearls.

Few Doubles of Thin People.
"Thin people very seldom have doubles," says a photographer. "In my business I meet many pairs of the most extraordinary resemblances

are between persons who are stout.
Scientifically I cannot explain the likelihood of heavyweights possess-

flesh fills up all angles and hollows
and destroys individuality of outline."

A Boarder in a Private Family

EVERY young man and young woman fighting to get on top in this city knows what it means to be a boarder in a private family. The meals are better than those of the cheap lunch counters and restaurants—the association of refined and home loving people cannot but have its effect in forming character. The maternal interest that the good woman at the head of the family gives to her boarders is such a help to the mental growth of struggling young people.

HOME SUGGESTIONS

HINTS ON MATTERS PERTAINING TO THE HOUSE.

Framing and Hanging of Pictures—
In Choosing Lamp Shades Color
Should Harmonize with Walls
—The Refrigerator Basket.

The framing and hanging of pictures has become an art. They are an important decoration of a room.
In hanging pictures, a study of surroundings is necessary, and care
should be taken as to wall coverings.
Avoid large-patterned papers. The plain colored or striped cartridge papers in rather dark half-tones, are the best backgrounds for pictures. The walls of a room should never be crowded, and as far as possible all pictures
should be placed on a level with the eye.

The framing of pictures is so much
a matter of individual taste that it is impossible to give rules that will apply in all instances. Oil paintings,
highly colored prints, and water colors, are, as a rule, framed in gilt.
When mats are used upon pictures
great care should be taken to insure their harmony. Black and white pictures should never be mounted in highly colored mats. There are ways
of mounting pictures besides framing
them. Passe-partout makes a good frame.

The latest frames for photographs
from Paris have a light blue mat which makes an attractive setting for a picture. A framer can easily duplicate one, as the colored mat is really the thing and can be chosen to match or contrast with any room. One often does well to supply their own mat
when having pictures framed, for certain rooms, especially if tapestry is used. Many picture shops can furnish handsome silk or cloth mats, and it is cheaper to use these and quite as satisfactory, as one must purchase so small a piece for one picture.

When choosing lamp shades for a room remember that color is of mo-

importance than the material used.
Porcelain and colored glass are often
very satisfactory, but softer and more pleasing effects are obtained with shades of paper or silk. Be sure to choose a shade which distributes the light properly at the same time saving the eyes from glare. The color of the shades should harmonize
with the walls. Red walls reflect red light best and green walls are best suited for green shades. Contrasting colors dim the light and make a room
appear gloomy.

Seasonable place cards are very handsome, and since the water colored cards have been so much in vogue, a very interesting and profitable field has opened for girls with talents in this line of art. Some of the daintiest cards are flower girls opening big boxes of roses, lilies, or violets. Other pretty ones represent green Jack-in-the-pulpits, colonial dames, Dutch girls, and birch bark logs. For auto parties there are numerous cards suitable for the table,
also wedding and engagement place
cards.

A new engagement card is in the shape of a small scroll tucked inside
a small gold ring. Open the scroll and there are quaint verses and quotations.

For table use the large flat Dutch spoons and even forks are very popular this year, and happy is the hostess
who possesses a few handsome pieces of Dutch silver. These spoons are used almost entirely for decoration,
and should be placed around the edge of the centerpiece, not more than three being generally used.

The refrigerator basket made of strong light weight rattan is serviceable for any household. It has two lids, resembling an old-fashioned market basket. In one end is a small compartment for holding ice which can easily be removed and kept clean.

Between the rattan and metal inside
lining there is a layer of asbestos and felt, while the lids and the bottom are treated in the same way. Handles of tough wood are securely riveted to the sides, and the entire basket is durable
and convenient.

A new centerpiece of rock crystal is in the form of three baskets or vases.
The center basket is taller than the other two, which are of equal height and attached to the middle vase by a chain of delicate glass links. This decoration is prettiest used on a long
table, and care should be taken to supply only graceful and dainty flowers.
